Is it hot enough for you.

It is not enough to say that you favor reforms, you must show that you are sincere by your actions, for by the latter will you be judged.

F. Augustus Heinze must have failed to contribute to the last Republican campaign fund, judging by the way in which a Federal grand jury is going after him.

With every whack at the tariff bill the senate raises the duties and inflicts additional burdens on the American people for the benefit of a few protected interests.

School teachers throughout the country are not getting rich very fast. The average salary for male teachers amounts to but $700 while that of female teachers reaches the magnificent sum of $650 per annum.

Governor Curry has abandoned the trip to Roswell and has gone back to Santa Fe from Southern New Mexico where he has been staying for a few days with A. B. Fall, getting political inspiration.

The University of Chicago is coming into a great deal of attention at the hands of ministers of the gospel, and probably with good cause. When one considers the source of supplies that it takes it is not surprising that it takes many strange freaks of fancy.

The Record stands for the moral and political development of the city and valley. This position has cost the Record, in dollars and cents, a great deal, but nevertheless will be continued, counting upon the support of the right-thinking people of the valley.

The Albuquerque Citizen says there is $35 apiece for every man, woman and child in the country. True, but owing to the party to which the Citizen belongs, the money is so unevenly distributed that the share of the average citizen has been cut down to 35 cents and the Republican-protected interests' portion correspondingly increased.

Thirty-five years ago an elderly lady died in New York City, leaving as a legacy to a nephew, a Bible. This he never opened until a few days ago, and was then surprised to find tucked in between the leaves of the sacred volume, the sum of five thousand dollars in bills. It is said that the nephew has become a strong believer in the virtues of the Bible.

Yesterday the Record brought the news by wire from British East Africa of the fatal wounding of one Perry Williams, a member of the hunting expedition of Messrs Selous and McMillan. McMillan and Selous both own ranches in Africa and both entertained Theodore Roosevelt last month. Wall Street will consider that the lion got hold of the wrong man, and will hope for better luck next time.

Germany, despite all the newspaper reports, is not likely to rush into a war with a first class power, like England, for instance. Although Germany has probably the finest army in existence today, she is unable to produce nearly as much food as she consumes and but a small proportion of the raw materials used by her manufacturing establishments. England is in a position to cut off the great part of these supplies from Germany, thus causing untold loss to the latter. The people upon whom this loss would fall have gained great political power in Germany and will probably be able to prevent any rash war of the creation of the war-like party.

One of the most promising signs of the strength of the Democratic party and the demoralization of the Republican party is the fact that Democrats who betray their party pledges are practically already out of the party, while in the Republican party it is considered a sign of great political strength and acumen to break pledges and platforms and sell out to the special interests. The Democratic party is the party of the people, the party of nine-tenths of the American people;

the Republican party is the party of the trusts and special interests, of the tax evaders, the tariff barons and broken pledges.

Persident Taft has a great opportunity before him, and correspondingly great will be his fall should he fail to grasp it. It is now almost assured that the tariff bill to be passed up to him by congress will be in violation of the Republican party, and even more in violation of the ante-election assurances of Taft, himself. Should he veto the bill he will have gained a strong hold upon the great common people of the country, but should he permit the bill to become a law, he will have ended his political future so far as the voters are concerned and must look to the special interests for advancement.

held in the university buildings. The congress will meet in nine sections—those of education, philanthropy, industries, health and physical training, literature, art, social work and moral reform, professions for women and children. The programs for all these meetings were extremely interesting, and delegates from many different countries will take part in them. On June 19 they will go to Hamilton, to be the guests of Mrs. Sanford, one of the vice-presidents of the Canadian council, and another afternoon they will be entertained by Lady Edgar, another vice-president, at her home on Lake Simcoe.

Delegates have been accredited to the council from Great Britain, Germany, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, New South Wales, Tasmania, Victoria, South Australia, France, Italy, Queensland, Austria, Norway, Belgium, and Greece, Smyrna and the United States. PENNSYLVANIA CANDIDATES ON REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 16.—The Republican state convention nominated the following ticket today:
Auditor, General A. E. Ninsion, of Erie.
Treasurer, J. A. Stober, of Lancaster.

Justice of the Supreme Court, Robert Von Mischzisker, of Philadelphia.
G. O. P. State Convention.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 16.—With the opening of the Republican State convention here this morning, the Pennsylvania political pot is again bubbling merrily. The convention will nominate candidates for state treasurer, auditor and judge of the supreme court. Three hundred and seventy-two delegates are in attendance. Ninety-two of the delegates are from Philadelphia and thirty-seven from Pittsburg, giving the two cities virtual control of the convention. The Democrats will not hold their convention until early next month.

Protect Musical Public.

Detroit, Mich., June 14.—Manufacturers making inferior pianos under fanciful names, many of which are close imitations of well known makes, were severely condemned by prominent members of the National Association of Piano Dealers, which began its eighth annual convention here today.

For the protection of the public, the association will probably begin the warfare against the makers and dealers who perpetrate such frauds in selling cheap, worthless instruments, often at exorbitantly high prices.

Eclipse of Sun.

Washington, June 16.—A spectacle of great interest to the astronomical world will be tomorrow's eclipse of the sun, and preparations were made today for its observation by the savants of the capital. The opportunity for making important observations will be very brief, as the sun sets at Washington shortly after the first contact.

The phenomenon will be visible in its totality only in the region near the north pole, but it may be seen in the western part of the United States near sunset and in the eastern part near sunrise through a smoked glass. The next eclipse of the sun which will be observed in totality in this country will occur June 8, 1918, and will be visible from Oregon to Florida.

Tomorrow's eclipse will begin at Boston at 7:09; at New York 7:02; at Washington, 6:56; at Charleston, 6:58; at Cincinnati, 6:30; at Chicago, 6:14; at St. Paul, 5:48; at Denver, 5:18; at Ogden, 4:48 and at Seattle at 3:43 in the afternoon. The eclipse will not be visible south of a line drawn from San Francisco through Tucson, Ariz., to Corpus Christi, Texas. The central eclipse will be angular for a short time, at beginning and end, and total during the remainder of the course.

The path of the central eclipse commences in Siberia, passing over the north pole, thence along the west coast of Greenland, terminating in the North Atlantic ocean near Cape Farewell.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 16.—According to Professor John A. Brashear, an Allegheny astronomer, tomorrow's eclipse of the sun will be totally unlike any other recorded in the history of sky-gazing. He says:

"The eclipse will be of a very interesting character from the fact that for a few seconds it will be annular eclipse, then change to a total eclipse then back to an annular eclipse for the second time. I cannot find record of such an occurrence in any history of astronomy, although we have records of annular eclipses for 400 years, and of total eclipses for thousands of years. The eclipse as a partial phase of greater or lesser magnitude will sweep over the North American continent from the North American continent from the north decreasing in size as it passes through Canada and the States.
